Washtenaw NOW upcoming events!

TONIGHT!

Wednesday September 21, 6:30 PM: Ending Street Harassment

Don't "hey baby" me! We discuss the history and impact of street harassment and how to confront it creatively. Led by Professor Georgina Hickey of UM Dearborn, Vice President of Washtenaw NOW.

Ypsilanti District Library, Downtown Branch on Michigan Avenue

Thursday October 13, 6-8:00 PM: Feminist Happy Hour

On the second Thursday of each month, we get together informally to talk about the events of the previous month through a feminist lens. There was a lot to celebrate this summer: the Supreme Court striking down the Texas abortion law followed by the ruling on domestic violence perpetrators rights to gun ownership and the Pentagon ending the ban on transgender people serving in the military. All these topics and more have been up for discussion. This summer we took to the outdoor patio of the Aut Bar where we were joined by Keith Orr, owner of Common Language.

Common Language is Washtenaw County's only exclusively Feminist & LGBTQIA bookstore, and one of the remaining few in the United States. It was a fascinating discussion, and our next Happy Hour is likely to be equally fascinating!

We will be moving back inside in October, to Los Amigos Fiesta on Washtenaw Avenue, where the Margueritas are grande and the food is great! Join us!

Monday October 24th, 6PM: Sexual Assault on Campus

The movie The Hunting Ground spells out in vivid detail the risk of rape on college campuses and shows how women are changing from victims into activists. Professor Georgina Hickey, UM Dearborn, and members of the Washtenaw NOW team will lead the discussion.
