Looking ahead to November, please plan to join us at our November 9th, 2017 meet-up. We will be discussing one title from those suggested at the link below.

Pivotal Books on Injustice and Inequality

Tell us about a book that changed your perspective, or your life!

Was it something you read as a child, or to a child? A book assigned for a class, or recommended by a friend? Take a moment to give us the title, author and a short explanation of what this book has meant to you. Washtenaw NOW will compile and share the recommendations we receive (check our website this fall for the full list!). Some of the books and members' descriptions will be put on display in the Ypsilanti District Library .

We will choose one title to read and discuss at our November 9, 2017 meet-up.
